

Notes on Contributors

Mark Adler is a solicitor practicing in Dorking, Surrey, England. His article Bamboozling the Public originally appeared in 26 New Law Journal 1032 (1991).

Beverly Ray Burlingame is a shareholder with the Dallas-based law firm of Thompson & Knight.

Judith D. Fischer is an assistant professor at the University of Louisville School of Law.

Joseph Kimble is a professor at Thomas Cooley Law School.

Terri LeClercq is a senior lecturer at the University of Texas School of Law. Her two articles are among the essays collected in her book Expert Legal Writing.

Jan M. Levine is an associate professor and the director of legal research and writing at Temple University School of Law.

Susan P. Liemer is an assistant professor and the director of lawyering skills at Southern Illinois University School of Law.

Wayne Schiess is the director of legal writing at the University of Texas School of Law.

